BUDGET & BOOKING

BUDGET IMPACTS

Having a well-scoped event will expedite your interpreter search and booking process.

Considerations include:

- + Virtual vs. in-person event
- + Length of event
- + Word count of resources
- + Number of slides
- + Number of languages

BOOKING AN INTERPRETER

Be aware of legal and copyright statements in your agreement and allow time for the agency to produce high quality work.

Consider:

- + Contract language
- + Lead time and quality
- + Agency outsourcing
- + Professional and liability insurance

EVENT PLANNING

COMMUNICATIONS

All attendee communications and event engagement should be available in both languages.

These include:

- + Promotional emails
- + Registration documents
- + Polls and surveys
- + Responses to attendee inquiries

GREAT SPEAKER ATTRIBUTES

A successful speaker centers audience and interpreter experiences while being as clear and concise as possible.

They offer:

- + Good sound quality
- + Slower pace
- + Minimal jargon and acronyms
- + Transcript submission

EVENT TEAM

Having team members who know their roles and responsibilities is key to a seamless execution.

Key roles include:

- + Interpreters
- + Tech Lead
- + Timekeeper
- + Chat Moderator

EVENT GOES LIVE

PRE-EVENT HUDDLE

The pre-event huddle is an essential window of time to ground the team, answer questions, and give a pep talk.

Be sure to go over:

- + Roll call and sound check
- + Name pronunciations
- + Best practices
- + Support team introductions

DON'T BREAK THE ICE

When planning opening activities, be mindful of creating an equitable experience for everyone.

Consider:

- + Interpreter experience
- + Audience experience
- + Jokes and sarcasm
- + Poems and music

WE ARE LIVE!

During a bilingual event, the timekeeper and interpreter are especially important to a seamless experience.

Remember to:

- + Keep an eye on the interpreter
- + Choose a signal to slow pace
- + Provide transcripts
- + Plan for tech issues

POST-EVENT

WHAT'S NEXT?

Use an application that accurately captures transcripts.

Consider your team's capacity to do post-event engagement with non-English speakers.

Post-event tasks include:

- + Transcript edits
- + Recording edits
- + Surveys
- + Emails

Q&A

Q&A

- + Any initial questions or comments?
- + Is there any additional content that you would like to see?
- + What else should we include on the Tip Sheet?

LUNCH & LEARN BEST PRACTICES FOR UTILIZING INTERPRETATION SERVICES TIP SHEET

1. UNDERSTAND THE NEEDS OF YOUR EVENT

- Identify the target audience and the primary languages needs
- Assess the technical requirements and limitations of the event format
- Determine the scale of event; the event length impacts the number of required interpreters
- Establish a service agreement that is clear on roles and responsibilities, cancellation policy, contingency plan, and confidentiality agreement

2. IN-PERSON INTERPRETATION SERVICES

- Determine interpreter qualifications and needed certification based on event content
- Consider the level of experience in community outreach and training settings
- Consider interpreter accommodation at venue, including interpreter booths, soundproofing, and seating arrangements
- Ensure appropriate audio equipment is available, including microphones, headsets, and sound systems
- Establish a communication protocol between interpreters and speakers

3. VIRTUAL INTERPRETATION SERVICES

- Choose a meeting platform with robust interpretation features and minimum limitations
- Ensure participants have access to required technology to fully engage in event
- Have a backup plan for technical failures
- Maintain interpreter visibility and presence throughout event
- Have a plan for facilitating language specific breakout rooms and handling audience questions in multiple languages

4. BEST PRACTICES FOR ALL SETTINGS

- Establish clear communication and hold post event briefing with interpreters
- Conduct rehearsals to ensure technical and logistical smoothness
- Provide interpreters with necessary materials in advance (slides, glossaries, and scripts)
- Continuously monitor and support interpreters throughout the event
